

MAKING SENSE OF AUTISM -

FREE ONLINE COURSE

Are you an autistic person or the parent or carer of an autistic child? Do you live in Wales? Then we have a free place for you on our Making Sense of Autism Online Training Course, supported by the National Autism Team (Wales) and funded by the Welsh Government.

From the day when you book your place, you'll have a month's free access to the learning resources via the Autism Wellbeing website, enabling you to learn in your own time and at your own place. Once the free places have all been taken, the course will be available at a cost of £40.00.

The Making Sense of Autism course goes live at 9am on Friday 6 November, you can book your place at any time before or after this date - hurry though, as these free places are being snapped up fast!!

Book your free place here. For more information, you can call Rorie on 07393 664 048 or email him on roriefultonaw@gmail.com